What?

What is the Early Childhood Intervention Program:

The Early Childhood Intervention Program offers support to preschool children with disabilities and their families. Early Childhood Intervention Workers assist children in community early childhood programs or in the child's home.

Parents and staff work together to provide optimum support for the child. An individualized program and adapted activities are provided to meet the needs of the child.

Our Motto:
Helping kids be kids!

Where?

Where is the Program Held:

The Early Childhood Intervention Program can take place in the community early childhood program, day care or in the child's home. It is the parents choice and staff can assist parents with this decision.

The program is free to parents, however it is the responsibility of the parents to pay for the childcare setting if required.

The Early Childhood Intervention Program is funded by the GNWT Healthy Children Initiative, YHSSA and other generous organizations, agencies and persons.

Expectations

What Can Families Expect From This Program?

The Early Childhood Intervention Program offers children the opportunity to develop:

- Language skills;
- Gross and fine motor skills;
- Social and play skills; and Positive self-esteem.
